

Role: Senior php Developer

Remote

B2b

The company is the solution for connecting worker payroll accounts with service providers unveiling income and employment data upon worker permission. We provide both real-time and historical data via our SDK. Workers can disconnect their accounts at any time and exercise their GDPR rights.

Who are we looking for?

U looking for a Senior Backend Engineer who will own the development of our flagship API product.

A product-oriented and creative person

You will develop and maintain data integrations

You will contribute to our internal tooling

Create and improve processes

Contribute to developing and shaping our key results (yes, we use OKRs!)

You will develop industry-specific products and solutions

Who are we looking for exactly?

PHP coding experience

Knowledge of design patterns, DDD, CQRS

Experience in the external API sources integration

Ability to work in a fast-paced and sometimes a little bit chaotic startup environment

Previous experience working with API products is a plus

Previous experience working with OKR system is a plus

Previous experience working at a startup is a plus

Based somewhere between UTC-5 and UTC+3

Tech stack

Docker Compose, PHP, Symfony, API Platform, PHP Unit, Mockery, MockServer, GitLab, Heroku, PostgreSQL, AWS, and growing